

BIOGRAPHY FOR ELLIOT WILLIAMS

Elliot Williams was a Deputy Assistant Attorney General for legislative affairs at the U.S. Department of Justice from 2013-2017. Prior to that, he served as Assistant Director for congressional relations at U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement and as a counsel to the U.S. Senate Committee on the Judiciary.

He began his legal career by clerking for Judges Donald M. Middlebrooks of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida and Charles R. Wilson of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. He was then accepted into the Attorney General's Honors Program, where he served as a trial attorney in the Domestic Security Section of the Justice Department's Criminal Division.

Elliot earned a law degree and master's degree in journalism from Columbia University, and a bachelor's degree cum laude from the University of Pennsylvania. He was also a Spring 2022 Fellow at Georgetown University's Institute of Politics and Public Service.

He now is a Principal in the Government Affairs and Policy Counsel practice group at The Raben Group, a national public affairs firm based in Washington, D.C.